

Streams, Swollen By Torrential Rains, Overflow And Block Highways; Cellars Flooded

More showers were forecast this afternoon as Adams County streams, swollen by muddy torrents, subsided this morning and highways, under water in many places in western Adams County Tuesday night, became passable again.

Total rainfall, as measured at The Gettysburg Times weather station, was 3.58 inches in a 26-hour period. Hundreds of acres of farm land were covered. Drainage ditches and streams were unable to carry the water off, it fell so fast Tuesday afternoon and night.

Streams that are normally dry or nearly dry at this time of the year were raging mill races. Winds accompanying Tuesday afternoon's storm did some damage to crops, but farmers said damage was not severe.

A number of gardens were washed out. Cherries suffered some damage, some corn was blown over and fields of grain soaked. Farmers whose poultry ranges were located in low spots moved their flocks hastily to higher ground.

Garage Nearly Flooded

In Gettysburg, streets were flooded at several intersections. On Buford Ave., in front of the Glenn L. Bream garage, water twice rose to within an inch of flooding the office and running into the garage, first about 6 o'clock and again shortly after 10 p.m.

At Fairfield, Fire Chief Roger Myers said that 50 per cent of the cellars were flooded, streets damaged and gardens washed out.

In a number of cellars in Fairfield, he said, water was almost up to the first floors, and ran out of cellar windows. The two fire company pumps and a portable pump were used to pump out cellars with electric motors, deep freeze units and other valuable equipment. The firemen worked until after 3 o'clock this morning.

Water flooded the main street in Fairfield in the vicinity of the Dr. J. H. Henderson home and the Fairfield Hotel. At the latter, water was up to the first floor. At the Fairfield Cut Rate Drug Store, water ran in the front door and out of a rear door.

The Henderson property was flooded and after the crest subsided looked like a swamp, fire company officials said. Water poured across fields adjacent to the town and acres of farm land were under water.

Fire Police Halt Traffic

The new Brethren in Christ Church at Iron Springs suffered considerable damage, when water flooded the basement. A Fairfield fire truck pumped it out.

Middle Creek, at the northeast end of Fairfield, spread out many times its normal width. Spring Run, in the town adjoining the Henderson property, was over its bank and water stood up to the runningboards of automobiles in the street.

Fire police of the Fairfield Fire Company were stationed at the bridge over Middle Creek. Between 5:30 and 6:30 the water rose to a point where all traffic on the highway was halted.

High water over the highway stopped traffic just north of Orrtanna. Flares were placed to warn motorists. The road was inundated at Knoxlyn, and at many other points muddy streams ran off fields or down private driveways and across highways.

Narrows Road Closed

A muddy flood rushed down Marsh Creek, overflowed the highway at the water works and spread over over acres of land. The creek was nearly two feet higher than normal for this time of year.

For the first time in the memory of many older residents the Narrows road northwest of Gettysburg was impassable at several places. Water flooded the saw mill of Edward Cole and some lumber was washed away.

In Cashtown, numerous cellars were flooded. Flat Run, at the northern outskirts of Emmitsburg, poured over the bridge on Route 15 and automobiles ran through water up to their hubcaps.

East of Gettysburg the rain was not so heavy.

Rain Worth Million

HARRISBURG (AP)—Yesterday's rain was worth "more than a million dollars" to Pennsylvania farmers, the State Agriculture Department says.

The rainfall ended a spell of six weeks of dry weather in some places, a federal-state crop survey reported.

For the week prior to yesterday the state wide rainfall average was only .42 of an inch, or less than half of normal for the first week of July, the report said.

It added that streams had been drying up in some northern Pennsylvania counties with vegetation making poor to only moderate growth. State harvesting of grain and hay progressed rapidly, however.

Five Countians Are Inducted Today

Five Adams Countians left Selective Service headquarters here this morning for the Harrisburg induction station for induction into the armed services.

They were William L. Hoffacker, New Oxford R. D.; Raymond B. Slagle, McSherrystown; John I. Strausbaugh, Hanover R. D.; Robert W. Kluck, Gettysburg, and Robert L. Smysers, Idaville.

Kluck was the leader and Hoffacker the assistant leader. They left at 7 a.m. by Capitol Trailways bus.

TICKETS FOR CLUB CIRCUS DISTRIBUTED

Tickets for the Hagen Brothers circus which will show here on July 17, under sponsorship of the Exchange Club, were distributed to members of the club at the weekly dinner meeting Tuesday night at Woodlawn Park.

President E. Donald Scott presided during the first part of the business session, turning the gavel over later to Vice President Robert P. Snyder, who gave a report of the recent state convention held at Bedford Springs. Mr. Snyder and Jay Bringham were delegates from the Gettysburg Club.

Carl E. Prosser, treasurer, announced that a check for $15 for fourth prize in Class B of the float division of the Gettysburg Fire Department's Fourth of July parade had been received. The float represented the United Nations headquarters building and its Voice of America transmitting truth through the Iron Curtain to peoples of oppressed lands.

Road Signs Up

Acknowledgments were made Cletus Mayer for contributing the lumber for a new bed for the wagon on which the float was built. (Continued on Page 6)

DISCOVER HEAVY INFESTATION OF SMUT IN WHEAT

A check on stem rust damage coming from a barberry bush nearby in York county led to discovery of great amounts of stinking smut and a recommendation that farmers in Adams County carefully clean and treat their seed wheat for next year.

Dr. R. S. Kirby, State College extension specialist checking the spread of stem rust in wheat in parts of Adams and York Counties north and east of the area bounded by Hanover and Biglerville, reported today that stem rust coming from three barberry bushes located within a mile area in York County has been found extending into an area of about ten miles into Adams County in the York Springs-East Berlin to Hanover area.

Kirby estimated loss due to the rust at from 3,000 to 5,000 bushels. The loss is slight compared to the large stem rust infestation which caused a loss of more than 100,000 bushels of wheat in 1946, Dr. Kirby said. He added that the dry period during the middle of June prevented the spread of the disease from the bushes to any large extent. In 1946 weather conditions helped facilitate the spread of the rust to all sections of the county. The three bushes causing the damage had been cut previously, but apparently the roots were not completely destroyed at that time and the bushes grew again.

Heavy Smut Infestation

Kirby said the outbreak this year "again emphasizes how important it is to keep barberry eradicated." He added that Adams County is apparently free of all native barberry bushes. Ornamental barberry is not harmful.

But the examination for stem rust led to the discovery of stinking smut in 14 out of 36 fields checked. In one field, 5.3 miles west of East Berlin on the Heidlersburg Road a field was found with 61 per cent of the wheat infected with stinking smut. The percentage was the highest that has been discovered in the state.

Kirby said that nothing can be done about the disease in the infected wheat. But that cleaning and treating wheat seed guarantees that it will not appear in crops planted from the clean seed.

Wedding

Shindlegger-Craig

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Delores I. Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Craig, Boalsburg, Pa., who became the bride of Pvt. Curtis W. Shindlegger, son of Mrs. Susan Shindlegger, Fairfield, Tuesday evening, July 1, at the Lutheran parsonage at Boalsburg. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Donald G. Raup, pastor of the bride.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Covert Jr., brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Their honeymoon was spent in Washington, D. C., and in Atlantic City, N. J. The bride will reside with her parents in Boalsburg.

Private Shindlegger will report to Camp Kilmer, N. J., after a two-day furlough with his mother.

Burglars never take vacations during summer months, was the warning issued to home owners today by crime expert John Mosler.

During the next few months, he explained, thieves will begin to work overtime when millions of American families leave their homes for summer vacations.

Basing his prediction on authoritative FBI statistics, he forecasts that the American public will be burglarized more than 1,200 times every day during July and August. He urges all homeowners to thief-proof their homes with these six simple pre-vacation precautions:

1. Cancel milk and newspaper deliveries until you return home.
2. Tell your postman about the temporary change in address. A collection of unopened mail bottles, a stuffed mail box or a pile of newspapers on your front porch is an open invitation to burglars who con-

Middle St., and Joyce Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4.

MAIL DRIVER IN HOSPITAL

Russell Black, Harrisburg, the mail driver between Gettysburg and Harrisburg, was admitted to the Harrisburg Hospital Tuesday evening where he will undergo a major operation.

FFA Film Being Made Here

Adams County will be in the movies again — this time as the background for a picture showing the work of the Future Farmers of America and the agriculture departments of the nation's high schools.

Victor Solow, producer-director for the production, filming of which began Tuesday at the farm of Glenn Sterner, Gettysburg R. 1, said the county was selected as the scene for the film because of the diversified agriculture here and because of the reputation of Elmer H. Schriver, teacher of agriculture at Gettysburg High School, as an outstanding agriculture teacher and FFA chapter adviser.

Solow said that when the General Motors Corporation decided to sponsor the film on the Future Farmers of America the selection of the location was placed in the hands of agriculture officials at Washington. They selected Gettysburg and Adams County as the site, with Schriver to be the technical adviser for the film.

Local Folk In Film

Tomato Club Will Hold Square Dance

Final plans were completed Tuesday evening by the York Springs 4-H Tomato Club for a square dance Friday night at 8 o'clock at the York Springs fire house.

Fred Crouse will call the numbers for the dances, according to plans announced at the meeting held in the home of Vance Brough. The dance will be open to the public.

Use of Zerlate and Zerlate and fixed copper in spraying tomatoes was discussed, with most members reporting they have already placed three sprays on their fields.

Dislocates Neck When Truck Upsets

Oscar T. Cullison, 38, of 49 Breckenridge St., suffered a dislocated neck and laceration of the right ear when a truck he was driving overturned on the Biglerville Rd. a mile north of Gettysburg at 4:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Police said Cullison told them the right front wheel of the truck locked. The vehicle struck the bank and tipped over. Damage to the truck was estimated at $700.

GARRETSON NEW PRESIDENT FOR PA. CHERRYMEN

Ryland Garrettson, Bendersville, was elected president of the Pennsylvania Cherry Growers Association Tuesday evening at a meeting of the organization held at the Gettysburg grade school auditorium. He succeeds Thomas Oyer, Gettysburg R. 3. The officials of the association are elected for two-year terms.

Fremont Kuntz, Biglerville R. 1, was named vice president, succeeding George Schriver, Bendersville. John Baugher was chosen secretary - treasurer, succeeding Lloyd W. Garrettson.

William M. Lott will again be chairman of the annual state-wide cherry pie baking contest held each February. Lott reported on this year's event in which the Pennsylvania titlist won the national championship and said present plans call for a greatly enlarged participation in the 1953 contest, with more schools and more students taking part.

Cherry Price, Wages Same

The 320 members of the state association were urged to give additional support to the National Red Cherry Institute. The advertising program conducted by the Institute, including the naming of a national cherry pie baking champion, has led to greatly increased use of cherries, growers reported, with the use spread over the year.

County 4-H Council To Tour Washington

Thirty members of the Adams County 4-H Council will take part in a tour to Washington August 1, Assistant County Agent Fred H. Attinger announced today.

The group will leave here by bus at about 6 o'clock on the morning of August 1 and will tour the Bureau of Printing and Engraving at Washington from 8:15 to 9:15 o'clock. From there they will tour the Federal Bureau of Investigation building. Leaving Washington at noon the group will lunch at Beltsville and then visit the U.S. Department of Agriculture experimental farms there during the afternoon.

Women Of Moose Elect Delegates

Rosetta Johnson, senior regent, and Marie Keller, junior graduate regent, were elected delegates to the international convention of the Women of the Moose to be held in Chicago in August at a meeting of the local organization Tuesday evening at the Moose Home at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Johnson presided over the session with 35 members present.

The women balloted on two new candidates who will be initiated at the next meeting which will be held July 22 at the Moose Home. Marie Keller presented each chairlady with the "New Horizon," a certificate of merit. These certificates will be given to committee members who have performed outstanding work during the year. The awards made at the close of the meeting were presented to Mrs. Enola Evans and Mrs. Thelma Carbaugh.

Catholic War Vets To Hold Clam Bake

Plans for a clam bake to be held by the 16th District of the Catholic War Veterans at Myers Woods, Bonneauville, Sunday, July 20, starting at 2 p.m., were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Catholic War Veterans at Bonneauville.

President Edward Smith of the Bonneauville CWV said that several hundred are expected to attend the district affair from throughout York, Adams and neighboring counties.

He also announced plans for the annual picnic of the Bonneauville CWV to be held at Myers Woods August 16.

Progress was reported as being made in construction of the post's new home with members asked to donate their labor any evening in helping to build the structure.

Taft's Backers Yield 13 Contested Louisiana Votes In New "Strategy Move"

BULLETINS

CHICAGO (AP)—Republican platform builders gave tentative approval today to controversial foreign policy and national defense planks.

But an angry dispute about civil rights still threatened to explode, either within the Resolutions Committee or later on the floor of the party's national convention. Most of the 90 committeemen got their first peek at the proposed harmony platform as they assembled this morning.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Jacob Malik today vetoed a United States resolution declaring the Russian germ warfare charges false and condemning their circulation throughout the world. It was Russia's 50th veto since the U.N. began. The Security Council voted 9 to 1 for the American resolution but the single negative vote of the Russian delegate constituted a veto. The 11th council member, Pakistan, abstained.

CHICAGO (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. John S. Fine today urged Republicans to unite and defeat the Democrats who he said are more interested in votes than in democracy. Fine, a key figure in the Taft-Eisenhower battle for the GOP presidential nomination, mentioned neither of those arch-rivals by name in his prepared address to the party's convention.

CHICAGO (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that if he is nominated for president by the Republican Party he will clean Washington of those in "appointive positions." The general met the Oklahoma delegation to the Republican National Convention for only a couple of minutes before rushing off to confer with the California group.

Our Guns Are Loaded

Wesley Roberts, one of the chief Eisenhower strategists, told a reporter the anticipated floor fight later today over other contested delegates will go on as scheduled.

"Our guns are loaded and we are ready to go," Roberts said. Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Eisenhower campaign manager, whipped out a statement expressing pleasure over the committee action. But Lodge added:

"Just so there can be no misunderstanding, however, I want to make it perfectly clear that the Eisenhower forces will not accept any 'deals' or compromises on the contested delegations."

To Back Up Committee

Thomas E. Coleman, floor manager for Taft, also said there was no deal with the Eisenhower forces on the contested delegates.

Coleman told a reporter:

"This is exactly what the Credentials Committee thought about the Louisiana case. We expect to support the Credentials Committee's report all of the way before the convention, even in cases where it is against us."

Texas Case Next

Lodge, noting that the committee next would take up the Texas case involving 38 seats, declared:

"We will insist that the committee recognize the legally-elected Eisenhower slate."

The GOP National Committee last week accepted a Taft compromise proposal on Texas. It gave Taft 22 and Eisenhower 16 seats from the Lone Star state. Eisenhower forces have been battling to put across a predominantly pro-Eisenhower delegation.

Better Than Defeat

The move by Taft forces in the Louisiana case today was regarded as indicating that the Ohio senator's leaders have come to the conclusion their drive for the nomination would be damaged more by a convention defeat on the contest issue than by the loss of a few southern delegates.

They apparently believe the committee's action in awarding the Louisiana delegation to Eisenhower would offset the decision to give Georgia — and possibly most of Texas — to Taft.

The Georgia slate seated by the committee will cast 17 votes for Taft.

New Score 527 To 452

Today's Louisiana decision moved Eisenhower up 11 votes net in the AP delegate tabulation and took the same number away from Taft. That made the score:

Taft 527.

Eisenhower 452.

Others 108.

Uncommitted 119.

There have been reports that the credentials group might try to work out a new compromise of the Texas fight with an even split of 19 votes each for Eisenhower and Taft.

Lodge's attitude seemed to indicate that he would not accept any such move. However, some Taft leaders felt that if the Eisenhower group took this attitude, it might find many delegates unsympathetic to a continuation of the fight.

Taft Claims Majority

Taft said he still has 607 or 608 pledged votes — "about that neighborhood" — with only 604 needed for the nomination.

Eisenhower was up early and moving around among the delegates. He talked first to a breakfast gathering of Oklahomans and told them that if he gains the presidency he will clean out the "appointive positions" in Washington.

A little later, Eisenhower saw the GOP nomination he will wage a fighting campaign against the Democrats "too long in power."

The Eisenhower camp was hoping to start a bandwagon rolling for their man with the floor fight over contested delegates.

HITS PARKED CAR

An automobile operated by John H. Dubbs, Baltimore St., struck two parked cars on W. Middle St. late Sunday night, according to borough police report. The parked cars were owned by Curvin Grimm, 119 W. Middle St. Damage to one was estimated at $50 and to the other at $100. Damage to the Dubbs car was placed at $50. The driver was not injured.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

A son was born Tuesday at the Hanover Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rouston, New Oxford R. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bair, Taneytown, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner Hospital today.

GARRETSON NEW

as last year. The payments to harvest hands were reported as "same as last year." The harvest season locally swung into high gear this week.

"Bigger And Better"

Reports also indicated that the cherries this year are "bigger and more delicious" than they have been for years. Dr. Fred Lewis reported that the wet weather this year which produced excellent foliage on the trees, plus a good disease situation, helped produce larger cherries.

Dr. Lewis added that this year has been marked by the least leaf spot since 1935 despite the wet weather. Very little carry over from the previous year plus the fact that most growers took excellent care of their orchards helped reduce the leaf spot problem, he said. Another prime factor in the reduction was the relatively new materials, 341, fixed copper and Fernalt, all of which give good results against leaf spot, he said.

Because of the wet weather this year, however, the Arendtsville scientist said, leaf spot carryover next year can be expected to be greater than it was this year.

Insects Controlled

Ring spot, reported by some growers, will cause a 40 per cent reduction in yield, Dr. Lewis said, but added that the trees will stage a 90 per cent recovery next year. An old disease now becoming more prevalent in this section, the spot is believed to be caused by some insect.

Dean Asquith reported most insects well taken care of, with the exception of Japanese beetles which he said have not been too much of a problem so far. He suggested use of a half pound Parathion and one pound of DDT in the post harvest spray, rather than two pounds of DDT, to combat both Forbes Scale and Jap beetle. Growers who wish to use something to combat Jap beetle before harvest can use Methoxychlor or Morlate, Asquith said, stating that either can be used without danger to people eating the fruit.

UNEASY CALM IN MEXICAN CAPITAL

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's capital maintained its state of uneasy calm today, with more than 500 supporters of an unsuccessful presidential candidate in jail and accused of creating disorders.

Four persons were known dead from riots Monday night, 24 hours after the presidential elections. Among those arrested was Gen. Candido Aguilar, head of a small political party which supported Gen. Miguel Henriquez Gusman. Henriquez, apparently defeated by government candidate Adolfo Ruiz Cortines, was still free and told reporters he would not try to curb the "indignation" of his supporters.

Air Conditioning Of Chicago Hall Big Job

Carrier Corporation has installed the equivalent of 3,000 of its 1/2 horsepower room air conditioners in the big International Amphitheater where the Republican convention is being held and where the Democrats will gather in two weeks. H. G. Simpson, local representative of Carrier, said the convention audience of 12,000 people generates and releases enough heat every hour to keep an entire three-bedroom house warm for a week and a half of the briskest winter weather.

"If you wanted to use the heat for cooking, an hour's output would be enough to broil more than 16,000 of Chicago's finest 16-ounce steaks. Or for a mass picnic for the kiddies, enough to cook more than 150,000 sizzling hot dogs, a string more than 14 miles long."

In addition to conversation, the convention audience will evaporate some 1,800 quarts of perspiration into the air every hour—or a flood of 14,400 quarts if they are in the hall for only a standard eight-hour day.

But none of this will present any problem to the hard-working delegates, Mr. Simpson said, because Carrier air conditioning will pull this moisture out of the air like a giant wringer and hold the temperature down to a constant comfortable level. "We're doing it in convention hall with our big system, just as you can keep your living room comfortable with a Carrier window sill unit, however hot the inside arguments and the outside temperatures become," Mr. Simpson said.

Steel Shortage Is Now "Desperate"

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's manufacturing plants are in desperate plight because of the steel strike, the Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today.

"And still nothing is being done to get production started again," the publication said.

Estimating steel production losses by the end of this week will total 13,200,000 tons, the Iron Age reported.

"By the end of this week the auto industry will be at least 70 per cent idle. Auto companies are hustling feverishly to finish every chassis they have started. This is exhausting their parts supply lines as well as their inventory on hand. Even if the steel strike were settled immediately the auto industry would be flat on its face for at least three or four weeks."

Scot Turned Down For Court Jester

WASHINGTON (AP)—The British royal chamberlain, it was noted today, has turned down a young Scotsman who petitioned Queen Elizabeth to name him her Court Jester.

The National Geographic Society reported the incident, observing that the royal chamberlain replied: "I fear the unsophisticated days of court jesters are incapable of revival."

There haven't been any court jesters in England since the days of the first Queen Elizabeth, more than 300 years ago. Shakespeare and others have written extensively of the deeds of those jesters—wise men who strove to lighten the crises of the day by inducing royal laughter.

Three Englishmen Fined For "Nothing"

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP)—Three Englishmen were fined $5 apiece for nothing yesterday.

That's just what they were in swimming—nothing!

Philip S. Carrington of London, spokesman for the trio, told Judge Robert A. Welsh that swimming in the nude "is not uncommon in certain parts of England."

The judge agreed it was a good answer but he fined the three for indecent exposure.

WOULD HASTEN RETIREMENT

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—A lower retirement age for federal judges is recommended by the third federal court circuit which concludes its 15th annual conference today.

A legislative committee report adopted by the conference yesterday proposed that federal judges be permitted to retire at 65 if they have served 15 years. At present, the retirement age is 70, after 10 years of service.

More than 100 judges and lawyers were expected for today's open meetings. The circuit includes New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania and the Virgin Islands.

DEMOCRATS HIT KEYNOTE TALK

By The Associated Press
Two candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination take a dim view of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's keynote speech to the Republican National Convention.

Avrell Harriman called it "meaningless oratory." Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee said it "offered no hope, no guidance to the people."

Harriman, the mutual security administrator, was in Charleston, W. Va., yesterday meeting Democratic leaders. He told newsmen MacArthur "admits we need friends in the world and yet he in fact demands that we go it alone."

Kefauver, campaigning in Duluth, Minn., said MacArthur himself is responsible for some of the Korean situation which he blamed on the Democratic administration.

Meanwhile, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, another Democratic aspirant to the presidency, appeared to make a hit with Arkansas delegates to the Democratic National Convention opening in Chicago July 21.

The 22-vote Arkansas delegation is pledged to "favorite son" Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark). Russell asked for second-choice backing.

EISENHOWER'S FAMILY GATHERS

CHICAGO (AP)—The Eisenhower family is rallying here to be with brother Ike in his biggest fight, not as politicians but simply as a family standing together.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State College, passed up a week of vacation fishing at his favorite Wisconsin lakes.

Brother Earl also is on hand, taking time off from his business in Charleroi, Pa. Brother Arthur is due in within the next 24 hours, also leaving his Kansas City, Mo., job for a time. Brother Edgar is arranging a respite from his Tacoma, Wash., law practice to be here for the showdown.

And brother Ike, of course, is campaigning strenuously for the Republican nomination, Milton and the others make no secret of their belief that he will be nominated and elected.

NATIONALS WIN THIRD ALL-STAR CONTEST IN ROW WITH BIG BATS

By JOE REICHLER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The triumphant National League All-Stars should have been happy today with their third straight victory over the American yesterday. Instead, they were bitter—and all their bitterness was directed at their beaten rivals.

"So Casey Stengel blames their defeat on the weather?" a National League player said. "That's a lot of sour grapes. What's the matter, don't they like it when the shoe is on the other foot?"

"I suppose the raindrops carried those two home runs blasts by Jackie Robinson and Hank Sauer over the wall. If anybody has a beef about the rain, it should be us. They wouldn't have scored either of their two runs if the ground hadn't been wet and slippery."

Stengel's Statement

Earlier, Stengel was asked to what he attributed the American 3-2 defeat in the wet, muddled and dampened game that was cut down to five innings because of incessant rain.

"I ain't blaming anybody," the gnarled old skipper of the New York Yankees said at first. Then he ventured, "Maybe, the rain."

"Can't tell what would have happened if we'd played out the game."

Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet, nor even a 50-mile gale could have prevented Hank Sauer's terrific blast from clearing the wall with Stan Musial on base in the fourth inning.

7th Win For Nationals

That mighty home run, a 430-footer that landed atop the roof and bounced out of the premises, equalized the two-run spurge of the American in the top of the fourth and gave the Nationals their seventh win in nine clashes and Manager Leo Durocher's first in three attempts. Stengel, who has whipped the Nationals in the last three World Series, has now dropped the last three all-star games.

Coming on top of the robust four-bagger belted by Jackie Robinson in the first inning, Sauer's blow proved for the third consecutive year that the balance of power has definitely swung over towards the older circuit.

Shantz Shone

Jackie Robinson's inability to come up with a double play grounder in the fourth made possible both American League tallies.

The Nationals obtained only three hits to the American's five but all were for extra bases.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the game for the capacity Shibe Park crowd was the brilliant pitching of Bobby Shantz. The 140-pound lefthander of the Philadelphia Athletics, in the one inning he pitched, the fifth, struck out three of the National League's best hitters—Whitely Lockman, Stan Musial and Jackie Robinson.

Eastern League

By The Associated Press

Lefty Lee Griffith of Elmira qualifies as the hard-luck pitcher of 1952 in the Eastern League—or any other league.

The smooth-working Brooklyn farmhand pitched no-hit, no-run ball for 10 and one-third innings last night and lost. The Binghamton Triplets beat him with two runs in the 12th and went on to sweep a doubleheader with the Pioneers, 2-0, and 4-3.

The twin triumph moved the trips to within half a game of the second-place Reading Indians, whose game with Hartford was rained out, and within six games of the front-running Albany Senators, who were washed out at Scranton.

Fourth-place Schenectady, however, kept the pressure on the trips by taking two close ones from Williamsport, 4-1 and 2-1.

Big Car Races At Williams Grove

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — Fresh from his victory on the Fourth of July in the feature race at Dunkirk, N. Y., Tommy Hinnershitz, the Flying Farmer from Reading, Pa., is looking forward to Sunday's AAA Eastern big car auto races on the Williams Grove speedway.

Hinnershitz, AAA Eastern champion for three consecutive years, after suffering his worst defeat of the season on June 15 on Roy Richman's oval, got back in his winning stride at the Dunkirk track.

In his last appearance here, Hinnershitz finished fifth in the feature race, trailing behind Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz.; Paul Russo, Hammond, Ind.; Bill Schindler, Freeport, L. I.; and Otis Stine, York, Pa.

U. S. OLYMPIC TEAM ARRIVES

HELSINKI (AP)—The strongest track and field team the United States ever assembled arrived today hopeful of maintaining American Olympic supremacy.

Eighty husky athletes stepped off the plane in dazzling sunshine after flying through a night of almost daytime brightness into this land of the midnight sun.

Coaches pronounced them as fit as they looked. Every ailing member of the squad is improving so rapidly they are expected to be in top shape by the time the games open July 19—with the single exception of Jim Fuchs.

Fuchs, world champion shotputter, is still limping with a torn ligament in his right ankle. "It's better, but not good yet," Fuchs said.

"We have a good strong team," Head Track Field Coach Brutus Hamilton told reporters at the airport. "On basis of our records this is the best team we have ever sent to the Olympic Games."

Board To Rule

On Game Protest

A meeting of the board of arbitration of the Pen-Mar Baseball League has been called for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the New Oxford Social and Athletic Club by Dr. Luther D. Beegle, Ennismithsburg, league president.

The board will rule on a protest filed by Cashtown in a game at Littlestown June 29 which was lost by Cashtown 3-2.

The play in dispute arose when Cashtown had runners on first and second with a count of three and two on the batter. On the next pitch, which was a ball, the runner on second base broke for third base. The Littlestown catcher threw to third base and nipped the runner after he had reportedly gone beyond the base. Cashtown alleges the umpire erred in calling the runner out inasmuch as he was entitled to the base when the batter was walked.

SUNBURY, Pa. (AP)—Two persons died in a crash between two automobiles and a tractor-trailer on Route 11 near here yesterday.

Mrs. Esther Reed, about 22, of Scranton, was killed immediately. Albert Cohen, 25, of Baltimore, in the same car, died six hours later at Sunbury Community Hospital.

State police said the Reed car side-swiped another car, while attempting to pass, and skidded into the path of the oncoming truck.

Robinson Homers

Jackie Robinson (42) of the Brooklyn Dodgers is congratulated by Stan Musial (6) of the St. Louis Cardinals as he scores on his first All-Star game homer in first inning of annual classic at Shibe Park in Philadelphia. Catcher Yogi Berra of New York Yankees and a bat boy watch. 'Chicago Cubs' Hank Sauer hit a 430-foot homer in 4th frame with Musial on base to give National League its third straight All-Star victory, 3-2, with rain halting play after five innings. President Carl H. Baumgardner presided. The secretary reported that a balance of $17,272.48 has been transferred from the Littlestown National Bank to the Littlestown State Bank as is the annual custom. Expenditures included payment to the Littlestown School System, $5,088.23; to Maurice C. Wareheim, census enumerator for 1951-52, $35; expenses for two directors who attended a special school board meeting in Gettysburg, $18.40. The tax duplicate shows an increase of $4,200 in 1952.

In a discussion of the summer recreation program it was learned that 75 children are registered with an average daily attendance of 30 boys and girls. Various planned activities for the program were approved. Present at the meeting were President Baumgardner and members Lloyd E. Crouse and Henry E. Waltman; Supervising Principal Paul E. King, and Secretary Ritter. The next meeting of the board will be held Tuesday, August 12.

More Railroad Layoffs Near School Board Gives Warning On Capita Tax

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Additional layoffs in the railroad industry loomed today as the result of the nation-wide strike of 60,000 CIO steelworkers.

Nearly 50,000 railroaders have been furloughed since the strike began June 2. They're part of the 42,405 workers in allied industries off the job because of the steel strike.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, which laid off 10,000 men June 5, says it is being forced to furlough "several thousand" additional workers.

A spokesman declared, "The strike is having serious progressive effect on traffic. . . . Now it is cutting off shipments from many concerns which depend on steel for their own production."

The same situation holds true on many other railroads throughout the country. Many are moving only passengers, mail, express and perishables as the production of durable goods is curtailed.

Meanwhile, representatives of the iron ore industry say they plan to ask the steelworkers if a plan can be worked out to move iron ore now stockpiled in the upper lakes' region.

MORE RAILROAD LAYOFFS NEAR SCHOOL BOARD GIVES WARNING ON CAPITA TAX

All new residents of Littlestown and those who have become 21, must notify the school census enumerator for listing for payment of the per capita tax, the Littlestown School Board warned at its monthly meeting in the high school Monday night. Penalty for failure to notify the enumerator is an additional payment equal to the regular tax. Luther W. Ritter, secretary of the board, was directed to publish the regular per capita tax notice.

W. W. Whalen, Saturday morning. The witnesses were Michael Whalen and Miss Helen Wentz. The couple will make their home in Gettysburg.

Littlestown Bank To Pay 12 Per Cent: The board of directors of the Littlestown National Bank declared an annual dividend of 12 per cent, payable semi-annually July 1 and January 1.

At the same time $10,000 was added to the surplus account which addition makes the bank's surplus and undivided profit accounts total more than $14,000. The capital stock is $50,000. Warren R. Jones is president of the bank.

Mary Dick Wins Title Of Queen At Homecoming: Mary Dick, of Greenstone, presided as queen at the Homecoming and Firemen's parade, held at Fairfield Monday afternoon.

Seated on a throne befitting a queen and surrounded by her maids of honor, Miss Mary Kebel, Miss Catherine Allison and Miss Gladys Walter, all of Fairfield, Miss Dick, crowned Miss Fairfield, occupied the first float in the parade, said to have been the largest parade in the history of the town.

The community services, held Sunday afternoon at the pavilion, at which the Rev. Dr. Harry Musselman, of Lancaster, was the speaker, brought out a large crowd.

Legion Of Honor Is Given Byrd: PARIS, July 6 (AP) — Premier Poincaré pinned the decoration of the Legion of Honor on the breast of Commander Byrd this morning. The ceremony took place at the ministry of finance in the presence of American attaches. The American aviators who flew across the Atlantic Ocean in the Columbia and America had another day of receptions, from breakfast until dinner in the evening yesterday.

Commander Byrd, with his gracious ways and words, has captivated the hearts of the French, as well as their admiration — just as Lindbergh did before him.

Miss Voorhees To Get Scholarship: Miss Jessie Voorhees, 16, W. Middle St., received notice from the state Department of Public Instruction Wednesday afternoon of winning the annual state scholarship for Adams County. Miss Voorhees graduated from Gettysburg High School this year.

Approximately fifteen pupils in Adams County high schools took the examination this spring.

Miss Voorhees plans to enter Gettysburg College in the fall.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
INWARD SATISFACTION

What other people think of us is not nearly so important as what we think of ourselves. That life is the most successful, and the happiest, that takes its cue from the heart. It's the inward satisfaction a person gets out of life that gives it significance.

Too many people appraise a life from a monetary standard. Nearly every job in this world amounts to more than the one of mere money making. Security for the body is below that of security to the soul. On the other hand, if you concentrate upon things that give you inward satisfaction you are almost sure to enjoy material gain as additional reward.

There are those of great wealth who have enriched the world and themselves by their good work and benefactions, but a greater number through example and by tireless labor have impressed their names upon the world's immortal roll of honor. Such as these in life reaped the inward satisfaction which is far more precious than gold.

So long as we feel we are doing the right thing, it doesn't matter what other people may say or think. That inward satisfaction of ours is self-assuring. I have always been amused at the sight of a big dog trotting along a path or street, and have noted smaller dogs barking at him but the big dog paying no attention at all. It's his superior pride that keeps him from a dog brawl. It is the same with human beings. So strong is their inward satisfaction that they are too proud and strong to enter into petty things.

People may buy a great work of art, or an intricate creation of man's handiwork, but they cannot place a price upon the inward satisfaction that the creator had in that work of art. We can only pay for technique — the soul of the artist is just thrown in. That makes it deathless!

I like that line, expressed in the Bible, which read: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Nothing is said as to how much that servant earned — just commendation for work well done.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Leave Something Behind."

SUGAR PILLS
I would not arouse the doctor's wrath.
But mother was a homeopath
Who regularly cured our ills
With small, but pleasant, sugar pills
In belladonna soaked. There might, at times, be added aconite.

One Latin phrase she taught to us: "Similia Similibus Curantur." At disease to strike; The idea being, like cures like. Or, by another manner told, What causes cold will cure a cold.

The memory keeps what custom drops.
We hear no more of "homeops."
Now, doctors do with methods new
What belladonna used to do,
No druggist now a vial fills
With aconited sugar pills.

I am not wise enough to say
Which way or is the better way.
My mother, as a general rule,
Preferred the homeopathic school,
And I, for fevers and for chills,
Boy-like, preferred those sugar pills.

Great Ovation For Hoover At GOP Convention Before He Hit Democratic Administration

CHICAGO (AP) — Aging Herbert Hoover bid farewell to Republican convention delegates last night with a plea to rip away the Democrats' "plush curtain" at home and salvage "lost statesmanship" abroad.

Hoover, the only living ex-President and the last Republican to hold that office, attacked the Democratic administration with a vigor that belied his 77 years.

His calm statements at the outset and at the end of his speech—that he did not expect to address another GOP convention because of "the inexorable course of nature"—were met with roared "No's."

Close To Taft

He mentioned neither of the top contenders for Republican presidential nomination. But his firmly-worded viewpoint on foreign policy hewed close to that of Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft and collided, roughly at points, with that of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"A phantom army" was the tag Hoover applied to the divisions abuilding in the Allied defense program launched under Eisenhower's leadership. Hoover called for a powerful Air Force to "restore the advantage of military initiative to us"—a frequent Taft thesis.

"I do not propose that we retreat into our shell like a turtle," Hoover said. "I do propose the deadly reprisal strategy of a rattlesnake."

Dishonor In High Places

He accused the Democrats, in office since Hoover's futile try for re-election in 1932, of corroding "the grandeur of the people . . . (by) the drip, drip, drip from dishonor in high places."

"Behind this plush curtain of tax and spend," Hoover said, "three sinister spooks or ghosts are mixing poison for the American people."

"This election may well be the last chance for survival of freedom in America," he declared.

Tumultuous Ovation

Hoover's appearance at the packed Convention Hall set off a tumultuous ovation. It far eclipsed in volume and length the one accorded the night before to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the convention's keynote speaker.

Hoover's speech brought these vocal tributes:

"An outstanding speech by a great American," said Sen. William Knowland of California. "I think he raised some grave questions which are of concern to all our people."

Sen. William Jenner of Indiana said: "A great American spoke from his heart. The country will heed his words of wisdom or we are lost."

PA. MAY GIVE 55 DELEGATES TO EISENHOWER

By CHARLES WELSH
CHICAGO (AP)—Pennsylvania Republican convention delegates appeared ready today to wrap up a tidy package of some 55 votes for the presidential nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Everybody in the delegation except the most ardent backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft expected Gov. John S. Fine to tie the final knots at a caucus some time during the day.

The size of the package was predicted by Samuel S. Lewis, state secretary of forests and waters. His forecast was endorsed by Delegate Kenneth H. Kressler of Easton.

Fine Doesn't Disagree

Fine, key man in the delegation, most emphatically did not disagree but neither did he confirm the 55 figure. He said he would announce his own position at the caucus.

Every Pennsylvania delegate seemed to agree that 55 votes could not be mustered for any candidate without Fine's support.

The obvious implication in the forecast by Lewis and Kressler was that they were confident the governor will come out for Eisenhower in high places.

May Start Bandwagon

If Lewis and Kressler proved to be correct, there would be only a slim 15 votes left for Sen. Robert A. Taft in what has been widely regarded as perhaps the most crucial "open" delegation in the 1952 convention.

Obviously Eisenhower backers were happy, and hopeful too that Pennsylvania would turn out to be the big push starting the nomination bandwagon rolling for Ike. There was sound reason to suspect that the disclosure was timed to do just that.

40 VOLUNTEERS TO MAKE CANCER DRIVE IN UPPER COUNTY TOWNS

Some 40 volunteer women workers will make collections in five upper-end communities for the July 16 "Lights On" drive of the Adams County Unit of the American Cancer Society, Attorney Richard A. Brown, unit president, announced today.

The volunteers will travel through Biglerville, Arendtsville, Bendersville, Brysonia and Wrenksville and make collections for the work of the Cancer Society at homes in those areas where lights are turned on from 8 to 9 o'clock next Wednesday evening.

"The Adams County unit of the American Cancer Society is organized to provide service for residents from throughout the county," Mr. Brown said, "and we are asking all of our citizens to support this life-saving work."

Workers Named
Organizations are being set up in other county communities and the personnel for those sections will be announced soon.

Mrs. William Harbaugh is chairman for Biglerville and other workers in that borough include: Mrs. G. R. Thomas, Mrs. John Leet, Mrs. J. Henry Donahar, Mrs. L. V. Stock, Mrs. George Gorman, Mrs. E. W. Wright, Mrs. John A. Lawler, Mrs. John Crawford, Mrs. Roger W. Hoffnagle, Mrs. Mildred Hildebrand, Mrs. George W. Smith, Mrs. Richard Rafenberger, Mrs. Roy Kuykendall, Mrs. Walter G. Howe and Mrs. Dean Carey.

In Arendtsville, Mrs. Harvey B. Raffensperger is chairman and other collectors are: Mrs. Charles Bushey, Mrs. Helen Rice, Mrs. Clyde Allison, Mrs. Dale Hartzell, Mrs. Frank Cole Jr., Miss Mildred Bushey, Mrs. Arnold E. Orner, Mrs. Cameron L. Hoffman, Mrs. Walter Frederick and Miss Evelyn Orner.

District leader in Bendersville is Mrs. Robert Deatrick. The women who will collect there include: Mrs. Jerry Foreman, Mrs. Luther M. Horick, Miss Joan Coble, Mrs. Emerson Orner, Miss Jo Orner, Mrs. Robert H. Orner and Miss Joyce Kuhn.

Mrs. Paul G. Pitzer is chairman for the Brysonia-Wrenksville area and the volunteer collectors there are: Mrs. Ernest Rebert, Mrs. Mildred McBeth, Mrs. Wilda McBeth, Miss Pauline Stoner and Miss Janet Stoner.

There are about 80,000 species of moths and butterflies.

TREE FOLIAGE CAN BE WATERED

Trees can drink virtually all over. That's why it pays to water up, as well as down. In the extreme heat of July and August, foliage, as well as the root areas, should be watered.

This advice is offered by M. R. Foster, field representative for a tree expert company, who points out trees and shrubs absorb moisture through leaves and stems, as well as roots. Many people completely water their evergreens, but ignore the "bathing" of deciduous plants. There is no good reason for this neglect. Actually, the deciduous tree benefits as well as the evergreen.

Stem and foliage watering is recommended particularly during periods of extreme drought. Also, when foliage is coated with dust and dirt. Hosing foliage removes these surface impediments and helps keep leaf pores open for breathing and general plant health. It's usually impossible to wet the top of large trees but most of the dust and dirt is on lower branches anyway so wash as high as practical.

Above all, don't water your landscape friends at mid-day. There is always the danger of foliage burn. Morning or early evening are good for watering the hose. But evening is best. Later watering assures trees and plants remaining wet all night.

Stem and foliage watering adds to the beauty of your plants by cleansing them. It also aids trees and shrubs to survive hot, dry

PASTURE CHEAP FEED FOR HOGS

How important is pasture to sows and litters? More than 20 years of feeding research by the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station shows that pasture is mighty important for cheap, fast gains and final profit.

A report in the July issue of Successful Farming magazine answering common feeding questions indicates that one acre of good rye pasture will carry 12 sows and litters next spring. Also, that acre of rye may save up almost 100 bushels of corn and more than 500 pounds of supplement over dry-lot feeding.

And straight alfalfa pasture is better than straight bromegrass pasture in the feeding schedule. In one series of tests at Illinois, pigs self-fed up to 200 pounds required 5 1/2 per cent more concentrates per 100 pounds of gain on bromegrass than on alfalfa.

The alfalfa-fed pigs ate 33 per cent less protein supplement and 13 per cent less minerals per pound gain. However, a pasture mixture of bromegrass and alfalfa is just as good as straight alfalfa, when pigs are self-fed.

The question of using oats to replace corn in the ration for fattening hogs has also been a problem for many hog-raisers. Research at Illinois leads experts to recommend the following:

One-fourth to one-third of the grain diet may be ground oats with little or no decrease in the rate of gain, but including oats in the ration slightly increases the total amount of feed required for each pound of gain. Unless ground oats are as cheap per pound as corn, there is no profit in making the substitution.

Avoid Udder Troubles—Keep the milking machine in good operation and practice managed milking to avoid udder troubles, recommends Ivan Parkin, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

weather. The Davenport expert offers a word of warning, however. Leaf watering does not supplant the normal procedure of thoroughly moistening the entire root area, generally approximating the branch spread.

20-Ton Tomato Club Formed By Growers

Pennsylvania farmers who grow tomatoes for canning have obtained such staggering yields that a new club known as Pennsylvania Master Tomato Growers has been formed with a membership requirement of 20 or more tons of tomatoes per acre.

For many years annual awards have been made by the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers Association which provided membership in the 10-Ton Tomato Club. Winners were announced during the Pennsylvania Farm Show each year.

The new club is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Canners Association, the agricultural extension service of the Pennsylvania State College and the tomato processors using Pennsylvania-grown tomatoes. The purpose is to stimulate interest in growing tomatoes for processing by the expanding canning industry of the State, to encourage use of modern cultural methods in producing high yield and high quality and to promote a closer feeling of cooperation between the tomato growers and the processor. Various prizes will be awarded for highest production when announced at the 1953 Farm Show.

Farm Calendar

Help to Produce—If dairy cows are to produce their best during the hot summer months, they must have three essentials, says R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. These are an abundance of high-quality feed that can be eaten in a short time, a shady cool place to lie down, and a good supply of fresh water.

Thin the Vine Crops—Vine crops will not do well in your garden if they are too thick. James O. Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, recommends thinning them to 12 or 13 plants in the hill or to stand at 12 to 15 inches in a row. Bush squash should be spaced even thinner. One plant to a hill is enough.

Check Before Culling—When hens drop in egg production early in the summer, culling may not be the solution to the problem, says P. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Be sure that the hens are properly fed, that they are free from lice and mites, and that their housing quarters are comfortable.

Repel Rabbits—Spray vegetables with an aluminum sulphate solution to keep rabbits and other animals from eating them, remind Penn State extension entomologists. Dried blood scattered around the plants also will keep the rabbits away.

Market Wool—Pennsylvania's 27 cooperative wool pools are now marketing a large share of the wool produced in the state, reports L. C. Madison, Penn State extension livestock specialist.

Renovate Berry Patch—In the absence of a new planting of strawberries, the patch bearing fruit this year can be renovated for another crop, says Carl Bittner, Penn State extension pomologist. Mow the tops high and rake off mulch and leaves, cultivate the rows and soil between, and fertilize well to start runners.

Control Smuts—Smuts are destructive diseases of wheat, says Allen Bauer, extension plant pathologist of the Pennsylvania State College. To control loose smut, plant clean seed next fall or seed which has had the hot water treatment. Stinking smut is controlled by organic mercury dust treatment.

Use Electric Pump—Many Pennsylvania farmers still pump water by hand or carry it in buckets from a spring. Electricity can do the job better and cheaper. In fact, Charles G. Burress, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, believes that next to lighting, the most valuable use of electricity on the farm is for pumping water.

Prune Black Raspberries—New shoots of black raspberries should get about three prunings, according to Carl Bittner, Penn State extension pomologist. The idea is to prune these new shoots back to 22

CUT WORK IN HAY STORAGE

A little forethought during hay-making time can save you many hours of work throughout the winter. And this holds true for all storage methods—whether you bale your hay, chop it, put it up loose, or make it into grass silage. The method you use should be determined by weather conditions, the kind of livestock you have, and the size of your haymaking operation.

Regardless of how you make hay, store it near the feeding area, says the July issue of Successful Farming magazine. Grass-silage pits should be built next to the feedlot and loose-hay stacks should be fed right in the field if you cannot find a simple way to move the hay.

Self-feeders also are making the winter feeding problem easier to cope with. Both commercial and home-made feeders will do the job if you take the time to install and fill them at haying time. Feeding baled hay directly from the fields is another idea becoming more popular each year—especially with cattle raisers in the semirange area.

Farmers using this method report they are satisfied with it because it eliminates several handlings. Also, the bales can be cut down to use as little twine as possible.

And they're getting very little spoilage—probably less than if the bales were stacked. Farmers claim that they have little trouble getting the cattle to clean up the bales.

Field-feeding works best in dry or frozen fields and the last hay cutting or a late-summer hay crop should be used.

The secretary's report was read by Vice President Snyder. It showed that remaining Exchange Club road signs were erected during June. Roy Goldsmith, Mr. Simpson and John Codori were thanked for their part in this work.

The Exchange Club will be guests of the C. H. Musselman Company at its Biglerville plant for dinner and a tour of the plant next Tuesday evening. It was announced. Members will meet at the plant.

inches from the ground so they will branch out more.

Fertilize Tomatoes—Tomatoes need a side dressing of fertilizer during the growing season, in addition to the application made at planting time, reminds James O. Dutt, Penn State extension vegetable specialist, in order to produce a heavy crop.

Shear Christmas Trees—Without proper shearing, a plantation of Christmas trees may produce 50 per cent of spindling, low-quality trees, says Walter W. Simonds, Penn State extension forester.

SAYS INNOCENT BYSTANDER HAS TOUGH TIME AT GOP CONVENTION

By HAL BOYLE

CHICAGO (P)—Well, Honey, this is no longer any place for an innocent bystander.

Things are moving fast. I was run over twice this morning on my way to breakfast. First, I was bowled over by a hit-and-run Taft parade. Then, while getting up, I was struck in the head and dropped down again by a fellow carrying a bass drum in an Eisenhower band.

When I finally did make it to the curb, I found ten campaign buttons sticking in me—three for Taft, three for Ike, and one each for Warren, Stassen and MacArthur.

Suspects Democratic Spy

The 10th button said, "Harry will carry." There must be a Democratic spy loose somewhere among these Republicans.

But it would be hard to find him here, as the Republicans are acting like Democrats are supposed to act. The elephant has lost his turgidity, and the GOP now stands for "Good Old Pandemonium." The rival factions are accusing each other of every crime possible—including political cannibalism. The fellows who are kicking themselves here are the committed delegates—those already pledged to support one candidate or the other.

Like A Pretty Girl

"Nobody is bothering to romance us," one said. "Boy, the thing to be is an uncommitted delegate. They are like a pretty girl being courted by two of the town's best bachelors."

"I'll bet right now if I were uncommitted I could have my breakfast in bed, get my son sent to Yale and maybe hold out myself for a place on the Supreme Court."

I was unable to attend the opening session in Convention hall, as the fellow who gave me a ticket grabbed it back when I made the mistake of announcing I was an independent voter.

"You got some crust, brother," he said. "I thought you was a delegate from Pennsylvania—and naturally we want he fellows from Pennsylvania well taken care of."

Boldness A Fault

While I was watching the proceedings on a television screen in the Conrad Hilton hotel, an old lady came up to me.

"I can't tell them apart," she said.

"Who?" I asked, politely.

"These fellows Taft, Eisenhower, and Stassen," she said. "My eyes aren't so good, and on television they all look alike now. I guess it's because they are all kind of bald. One thing about Abraham Lincoln or General Grant. If they

RUSS FACTORY SPOILS SHOES

MOSCOW (P)—A Soviet satirist thundered today that anybody who wears the shoes made by the Penza region's Kuznetsk Shoe Factory will have to walk tip-toe. All the shoes have nails sticking up through the heels.

Satirist G. Rytkin, writing in the government newspaper Izvestia, snorted that the heads of the Kuznetsk factory are nothing but "shoemakers." In Russia, "shoemaker" is practically a bad word. It is used as an epithet to describe were alive today a body could tell which was which—even if the television was fuzzy."

Took In Night Clubs

Naturally, Trellis Mae, all work and no play makes a dull delegate. I went to a night club with some delegates to relax, and what was our surprise to find we were in a strip tease palace.

"If I knew it was this kind of place I would certainly never have come in here," said one delegate, taking off his shoes to rest his feet—and putting on his glasses to rest his eyes.

Needs More Money

Well, Dear, after walking that far I had to stay a while, too. There was one girl entertainer who showed her non-partisanship in a rather cute way. She wore a big Taft button on one side of her bosom and a big Ike button on the other.

But when her act was over she wasn't wearing either button—so the delegates all joined in cheering her, figuring, as far as they could see, she was a true independent at heart.

Wish you were here. Your Lonesome Husband, Wilbur.

P. S. Please rush more money. Even milk is 36 cents a glass here.

Son Slain In '44, Keepsake Arrives

LUENEBURG, Germany (P)—Eight years after her airman son was killed in Germany, an American mother has received his last keepsake.

A class ring, inscribed "Texas A. and M. College, 1942, John E. Harris" was found by a German refugee digging for scrap metal on the Luenburg heath.

He put the ring temporarily in a drawer at home. A relative, emigrating to the U. S., told an American clergyman aboard ship of the incident. As a result of this tip the U. S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden was asked to help.

From Mrs. Katie B. Harris, Pasco, Wash., has come a letter of gratitude now for having been sent the ring. Her son, Second Lt. John Emmet Harris, graduate of Texas A. and M. in 1942, was lost on a bombing mission over Germany in April 1944.

cribe anyone who is totally incompetent.

The Kuznetsk factory, said Rytkin, has spoiled its goods for two years. In 1951, he added, 18,000 pairs of women's and men's shoes had to be junked, and "special attention was devoted to spoiling women's summer sandals."

The trouble, said Rytkin, is this: "During the first three weeks of each month the heads of the Kuznetsk factory 'catch flies and count crows' and then during the last week declare 'storms' ('go all out') to fulfill the output quota set by the plan, forgetting totally about quality."

BOY, 2, WANTS BOX OF CIGARS

NEWARK, N. J. (P)—Little Jimmy McLaughlin has exacted a solemn promise from his mommy for his second birthday Aug. 3—a big box of Italian stogies just for himself.

Jimmy—blue eyes, blond hair and always ready to talk a blue streak—was getting a little tired of smooching his father's cigars. He began smoking when he was eight months old.

"He picked up daddy's cigar one day," said his pretty 23-year-old mother, "and there's been no holding him ever since. He's unbearable all day long unless he has his early-morning cigarette."

She estimates his daily consumption at six cigarettes and one cigar. Jimmy, who has been carrying on conversations since he was one, says he likes fun and girls in addition to cigars and wants to play baseball for the Giants.

The comment of his physician, Dr. Nathan Zuckerberg: "Definitely a precocious child."

200 CHINESE DROWN

HONG KONG (P)—About 200 Chinese drowned Saturday when a sudden squall capsize 20 fishing sampans, according to reports from the Portuguese colony of Macau.

Ike Wants To Kick Democrats In Fall

CHICAGO (P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower appealed Tuesday for Republican harmony and for "kicking the Democrats so far November 4 that it'll take them about 20 years to get back."

Eisenhower, a top contender for the GOP presidential nomination, came up with the unity appeal and the slug-the-Democrats remarks at a breakfast with the 26-vote Missouri delegation to the party's national convention.

He met with the group after Monday's dramatic preliminary victory of his forces over those of Sen. Robert A. Taft at the opening session of the convention.

The Eisenhower camp, however, was tempering elation with caution in continuing to predict an early ballot nomination of the general.

"FIXER" FIXED

PITTSBURGH (P)—Louis Yee, Chinese laundry owner, sang happily as he watched the Republican convention over television. Suddenly the set refused to work.

Yee didn't know what to do. A stranger who walked in offered to take the set, fix it, and have it back in jiffie, good as new. Yee agreed.

Minutes passed into hours. Yee decided to call the police. They found the stranger trying to sell the set at a bar.

LONDON (P)—Margaret Truman was listed today as guest of honor at a luncheon party to be given by Prime Minister Churchill at Number 10 Downing St. this afternoon.

The daughter of the U. S. President arrived on the new American liner United States.

The process for making eyeglasses is believed to have been discovered late in the 13th Century.

If you want bigger payloads, you want a Dodge

For bigger payloads, choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck—1/2- through 4-ton.

"Job-Rated" engineering makes it possible for you to haul more with the right Dodge truck for your needs.

You haul more economically, too, because of such Dodge advantages as lightweight aluminum-alloy pistons and others.

For smoother power, extra load protection, gyrol Fluid Drive is available on 1/2-, 3/4-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.

Come in for a demonstration—and an extra good deal!

Better weight distribution. Dodge short wheelbase allows more weight to be carried on the front axle. Because the engine is located farther forward and front axle is moved back, you can haul bigger loads without overloading.

The right load-carrying units. Frame, axles, and other units that carry the load are "Job-Rated" on Dodge. Each is engineered to provide strength and capacity needed to support your load. All are "Job-Rated" to work together!

The right load-moving units. You get an engine that's "Job-Rated" with plenty of power to pull bigger loads at low cost. In fact, all load-moving units—such as clutch, transmission, rear axle—are engineered to move bigger loads.

"We solved our hauling problems with Dodge 'Job-Rated' trucks"

"Our business calls for trucks that can haul big loads day in and day out—and we like our trucks to last, too! That's why we prefer Dodge trucks that are 'Job-Rated' to fit our particular hauling job."

"We recently put in service two Dodge 'Job-Rated' 1 1/2-ton models . . . and they sure haul big loads the way we want them to! For instance, the 170-inch wheelbase models allow for a 14-foot body, which is ideal for our business. And Dodge easy-handling advantages enable us to maneuver these trucks in the same space as some other trucks with 12-foot bodies."
